Dr. Yeadon's Six Observations

1. The political leaders were not scared of a virus. They were caught partying.
2. Queen Elizabeth II's medical team was not scared of a virus. She met with G7 leaders in 2021.
3. No authentic samples of the virus.
4. Covid-19 symptoms are the same as flu symptoms. The flu disappeared when Covid-19 appeared.
5. The PCR test does not work for clinical diagnosis.
6. Nothing happened until bad medical practices were applied.

Conclusion

No New Pathogen, (Virus)

Episode 407 - False Flags: The Secret History of Al Qaeda — Part 1 (video)

Corbett • 09/13/2021

We all know the story of bin Laden and Al Qaeda, the story that was repeated ad nauseam in the days, weeks and months after the catastrophic, catalyzing events of 9/11. So often was that story repeated that the hypnotized public forgot that it was, at base, just that: a story. . . .

Episode 424 - False Flags: The Secret History of Al Qaeda - Part 3: The War of Terror

Corbett • 09/12/2022 • 74 Comments

When viewed in its proper context, the war on terror was no failure. In fact, waged on fictitious grounds against a shadow enemy, the great military campaign of the 21st century was not a war on terror at all. It was a war of terror, a pretext for the construction of an international security grid in the name of fighting a bogeyman that never existed in the first place.

The spectacular, catalyzing terror attack of 9/11 was not allowed to happen. It was made to happen. But why? Who, other than the devout Muslim suicide warriors posited by the official 9/11 conspiracy theorists, would do such a thing? And for what purpose?

As the months passed in 2020, Cheryl-Anne Labrador-Summers struggled to figure out why she kept experiencing unexplained stomach cramps, as she couldn't get an in-person appointment during the pandemic. Early the following year, she learned she had cancer. (Ousama Farag/CBC)

By January, the 58-year-old had a distended stomach, looking — in her own words — "about nine months pregnant." Again, she reached out to a physician, went for some tests, then headed to the nearest emergency department. After finally seeing a doctor face to face for the first time in months, she learned the real cause of her discomfort: an intestinal blockage caused by cancer.

A father of three has tragically died at just 37 after coming down with a fatal bout of the flu - as his wife issues a warning about this year's deadly strain

Mate Babic, from Canberra, unexpectedly passed away in the early hours of Wednesday morning after contracting influenza B, leaving behind his wife Carla and their three sons, Luka, 3, Sebastian, 6, and Marko, 7.

Carla told Daily Mail Australia that her husband was a 'healthy man, a big personality and a six-foot-four mountain of a man'.

'He was the lovable larrikin, full of jokes, the life of the party who would just make everyone smile,' Carla said.

'It is crazy a six-foot-four, healthy man could pass away from influenza B, it is like we are living in the 18th century, it is like the plague.'

The couple weren't vaccinated against the flu after Carla had a bad reaction to the Pfizer vaccine and said they were 'a bit apprehensive to have the flu vaccine'

Mike's Take on the Pandemic

1. The pandemic is fake. The SARS-CoV-2 virus does not exist.
2. The PCR test kits and the injections, (vaccines), were made before the pandemic was announced.
3. The Covid-19 pandemic was a plan long in the making and everything is going according to plan.

Final Word from Alan Watt

Hi folks. I am Alan Watt. We're Cutting Through The Matrix. Just hoping that people out there really start to really, really GET IT. You got to start thinking... the worst. You got to cross that line. People who are waking up come through different stages. Most of them never get close to the last line. The last line is where you're saying, 'well I know all this but they wouldn't really do that. People wouldn't DO that. No one is so horribly cruel as to actually do that.' If they can't cross over that line, they won't get the rest of the picture. Believe you me, it's like crossing over a mountain. EVERYTHING suddenly makes sense when you accept, YES, not only would they do that, they HAVE been doing that to you. You'll see everything completely different.
